Profitable Grazing Systems PGS 101: the who, what, when and how Perth, Friday 14 October 2022

Venue	Rose and Crown Hotel, Perth
Time	8:30am–4pm
Cost	$100

Profitable Grazing Systems (PGS) takes small groups of like-minded producers who want to improve their whole-farm performance and matches them with a deliverer who builds their knowledge, skills and experience through hands-on training.

Would you like to know more about becoming a PGS deliverer?

To support ongoing gains in Australia's red meat and livestock sector, PGS is seeking coaches who can work with producers using existing supported learning packages or packages they develop themselves.

PGS coaches come from a range of backgrounds but, generally, becoming a coach involves stepping from the advisory space into coaching, which may involve small groups or individuals.

PGS supports program delivery with small groups using a range of learning platforms and situations and, at times, uses one-on-one delivery.

Session one will be delivered by Andrew Huffer and will cover information to support skill development in group facilitation both in-person and online, and session two with Georgia Smith and Dan Parnell, will explore what to expect, how it all works and how to get involved in PGS.
