Key take home messages

Key market trends:

Shift from opportunistic harvesting to calculated and managed enterprise

Growth of Boer/Kalahari x Rangeland goats retaining does

Demand continues to buoy prices both online and OTH.

Exports remain strong: Australia #1 goat exporter in the world Surge in OTH prices-220% increase between 2020 and 2011 compared to medium steer (130%) and mutton (50%).

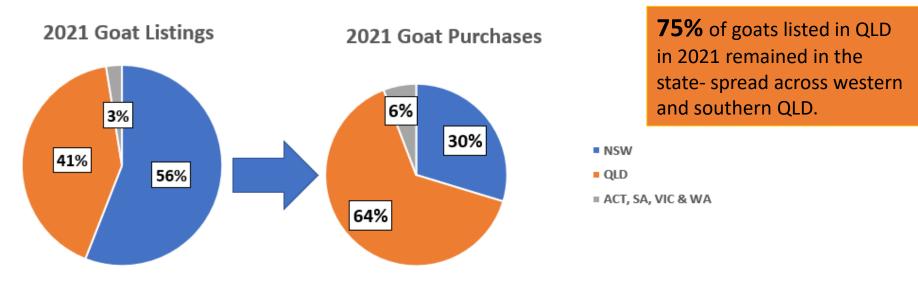

- Weekly commercial goat sale has seen huge growth in 2022- monthly listings for Jan 18000 and Feb up 788% and 857% 16000 respectively YOY.
- Rangeland goat listings account for 70-80% of throughput.
- Increase in first cross

Market overview: Goats vs lambs

Goat and lamb weekly slaughter (no. head)

Prices for all categories remain at historically high levels

Available supplies are rising...
BUT season & supply chain disruptions have created issues

Flock rebuild in full swing – Merino remains "King" but other breeds + goats are rising.

Watch demand as the flock & turnoff rates grow

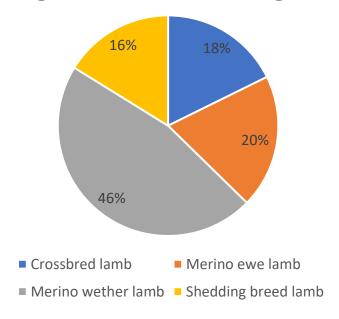

2021 QLD lamb purchases up 200% YOY

Positive seasonal conditions = opportunity to finish lambs

Queensland lamb purchases 2017-2021

QLD Shedding breed lamb purchases

Shedding breed lamb

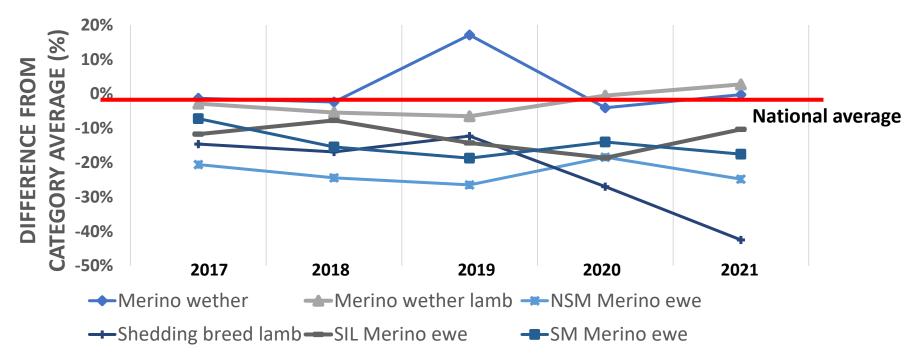

What is driving change?

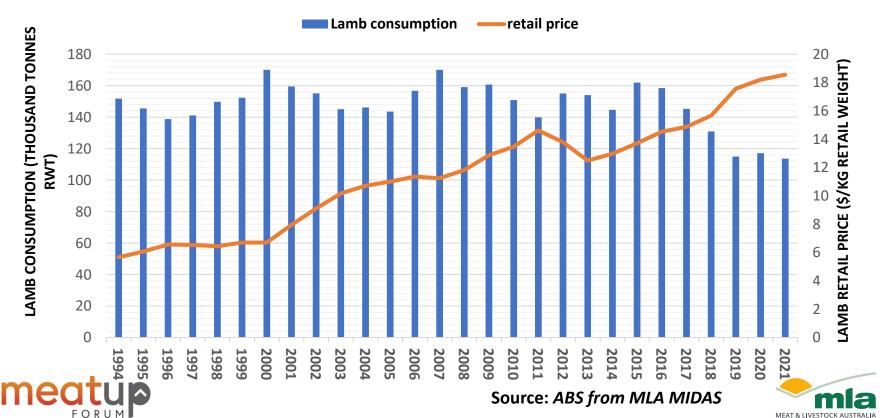

- Difficulty to source labor and shearers/ market volatility
- Exclusion fencing
- Rapid growth of the goat industry
- Rise of shedding breed sheep in the rangelands

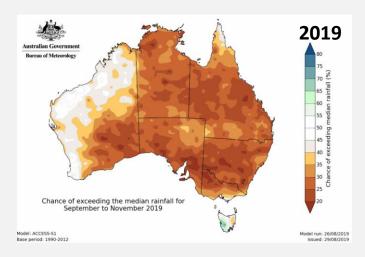

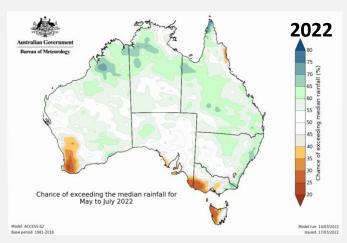

Australian lamb consumption succumbs to price rises

Outlook: Rainfall

- 2021–22 La Niña appears to have peaked or be near its peak.
- Neutral climatic conditions more likely in the current forecast window
- La Niña conditions less likely to persist in 2022–23 or recur over the outlook period to 2026–27.

What to watch: Key drivers for sheep and lamb market

Short term:

- Lamb and sheep prices to continue a similar path for 2022
- Seasonal conditions outlook remains a key driver

Medium term:

- Impact of supply pressures on prices
 - BUT could be offset easily by demand in major markets limited competitors
- Rising fuel prices and associated transportation costs

What to watch:

- Higher A$ will be one to watch, but lamb is not as greatly impacted as other commodities as it is a "niche" product.
- Be aware of the "inflation" upon demand, image & perspective inflation and interest rates.
- Labour prices and ability to source reliable / timely work.

 Although markets are expected to settle, many drivers of recent change will remain.

 The stage is set for ongoing growth and success of sheep, lamb and goats however smart choices, proactivity and capitalizing on opportunity are essential.

 Lamb exports- growing demand for lamb is pushing exports higher- NZ lamb have not met our growth in recent years.

Take home messages

- 1. Sheep and lamb market is in a historically strong position
- 2. QLD producers placing increased focus on shedding breed, meat sheep and goats as opposed to purely Merino.
- Ongoing opportunity in goat production with rising value of exports and demand.
 - Focus on opportunity rather than disruption.
